

Starting January 19, 2022, Kuali COI will have two new updates. These include:

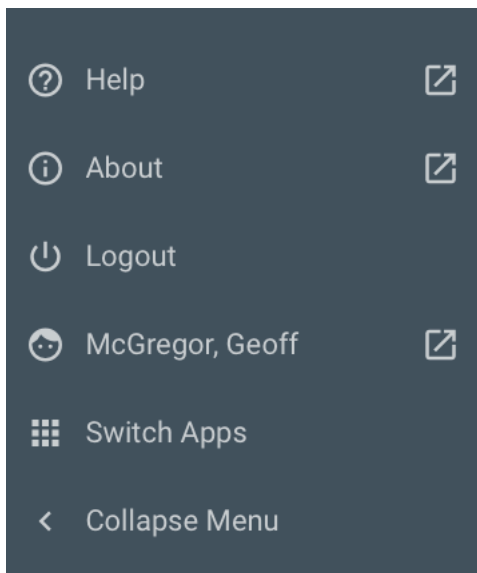

Clarity to Disclosures screen – Kuali’s update includes important disclosure details such as when the last action was taken, the expiration date, and the current disclosure status. If the disclosure requires an update, the system will indicate what new projects have triggered an update. There’s also a more visible button to update a disclosure that opens disclosures that you’ve seen before. Follow the steps to resolve an open disclosure as described in the Kuali COI User Guide.

The screenshot shows a notification banner with an orange background on the left containing a white warning triangle icon. The text reads: "Your disclosure needs to be updated:". Below this, there is a bulleted list: "• New projects with NIH (4)" and "• New project with NSF". A large blue button with a circular refresh icon and the text "UPDATE DISCLOSURE" is positioned below the list. Underneath the banner, the section "Current Disclosure" contains a table with three columns: "Last action date", "Disclosure Status", and "Expiration Date". The table data is: "Feb 5, 2021 2:31 PM", "Update Required" (with a red dot icon), and "Sep 16, 2020 9:00 PM". A "View" link with an eye icon is on the right. At the bottom, "Disclosure History (2)" is shown with a "Show" dropdown arrow.
