

JOHNS HOPKINS UNIVERSITY

Graduate School Visit @ University of Maryland Baltimore County

Come join admissions representatives from Johns Hopkins University graduate schools who will offer tips and resources on how to find the right program to meet your personal and professional goals, successfully navigate the admissions and financial aid process, and help you prepare early to be a successful graduate candidate.

After a brief presentation, representatives will be available to speak with students one-on-one about program offerings and answer specific questions.
