

DIALOGUE AND DIGITAL STORYTELLING FOR INTERGROUP SOLIDARITY

Professors Felipe Filomeno and Tania Lizarazo will present the process and results of a community-based research project that is using dialogues and digital stories for cooperation between immigrants and US-born people in Baltimore faith communities.

September 10, 2019, 4:00–6:00pm

UMBC Performing Arts and Humanities Building Room 127
1000 Hilltop Circle Baltimore, MD 21250

UMBC Partners: Public Humanities Minor Program; the Orser Center at the UMBC Department of American Studies; and the Dresher Center for the Humanities

This project is made possible by a grant from Maryland Humanities, through support from the National Endowment for the Humanities. Any views, findings, conclusions or recommendations expressed in the Honest Conversations do not necessarily represent those of the National Endowment for the Humanities or Maryland Humanities.