THE RAYMOND V. HAYSBERT, SR. ENTREPRENEURSHIP LECTURE SERIES

Building a House

Before building a house (your business), you must ask yourself the following question: Am I going to build this house to live in, or am I going to build a house to sell? Every decision counts. It is thrilling. Don't let them consume or constrain you. Yes, wrong moves will directly hurt you, but they are yours. Own them, and they will not own you. That is what it means to be an entrepreneur.

Come listen to Paul talk about his journey building the house he currently lives in and building houses to be sold.
