

Minority Innovation Weekend 2020

Saturday October 3, 2020 – Sunday October 4, 2020

Online
Event!

Minority Innovation Weekend (MIW) is a tech startup and innovation conference dedicated to aiding innovators of color to launch tech-focused startups and explore emerging technologies.

Startup Fundamentals Conference Track

- Gathers tech-startup founders to educate attendees on many of the steps required to take a tech-focused idea or concept and launch a successful company.

Cybersecurity Conference Track

- Brings together leading cyber security practitioners to discuss the most prevalent cybersecurity challenges and encourage track attendees to launch tech-focused startups to address these challenges.

Health Innovation Conference Track

- Connects innovators and organizations from various fields interested in discussing and developing tech-focused solutions to resolve health challenges.

Environmental Innovation Conference Track

- Assembles experts in environmental science and environmental technology (envirotech) for insightful presentations and discussions on developing tech-focused solutions to address environmental challenges.

Free Registration for College Students

To Register Please Visit:

<https://www.minorityinnovationweekend.org/miw-2020-umbc>