

Save the Dates

11th annual Korenman Lecture

Deepa Iyer

Deepa Iyer is South Asian activist, writer, and lawyer. Her recent book, We Too Sing America, asks how emerging communities of color and immigrants can transform America's changing racial landscape.

'Becoming Bridge-Builders and Disrupters: Navigating
Racial and Gender Realities in America Today'

March 8th, 2018, 4pm

Library Gallery

This year with accompanying workshops

Workshops — March 7th, 2018

The workshops will be an opportunity to understand basic concepts and strategies that are rooted in an anti-racism approach, with an emphasis on countering Islamophobia, using race-plus analyses, and implementing best practices to encourage allyship and solidarity. The faculty workshop will also include discussion of best pedagogical practices.

The student workshop is 12-1:15pm in Commons 331

The faculty workshop is 3-4:15pm in the Fine Arts 011

Registration requested

GENDER+WOMEN'S STUDIES

Co-Sponsored by: CAHSS Dean's Office, Provost's Office, Africana Studies, American Studies, the Dresher Center, Global Studies, Media and Communications Studies, Modern Languages, Linguistics, and Intercultural Communication, the Mosaic Center, and the Women's Center