

The Fracking of Rachel Carson: Silent Spring in an Age of Environmental Crisis

The 6th Annual Korenman lecture, featuring renowned author and activist

Sandra Steingraber

Dr. Sandra Steingraber, ecologist and cancer survivor, has written extensively on the intersection of the environment and public health. She will discuss what we have learned, and failed to learn, in the 50 years since Rachel Carson's publication of Silent Spring, focusing specifically on the public health threat posed by fracking.

The 6th Korenman lecture is hosted by Gender + Women's Studies

Cosponsors:

Dresher Center for the Humanities
College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences
Office of the Provost
Social Sciences Forum
Geography and Environmental Systems
Women in Science and Engineering
Early Childhood Education, Department of Education
Department of English
Department of History
Honors College
Language, Literature and Culture Program
President's Commission for Women
University Health Services
Women Involved in Learning and Leadership (WILL)
Department of American Studies
Health Administration and Policy Program
Department of Political Science
Women's Center

Wednesday,
March 6 at 4pm
AOK Library 7th Floor

Free + open to the public
Reception to follow

GENDER+WOMEN'S STUDIES

