

The UMBC History Department presents the 2015 ROBERT K. WEBB LECTURE

THE REPUBLIC OF THE UNLETTERED: Were Slaves, Indians and Women Enlightened?

SPEAKER: BIANCA PREMO

Associate Professor of History, Florida International University

When:
Wednesday,
October 21, 2015
4 pm

Come to the AOK Library Gallery!

Reception to follow.

This talk explores what it means to write an intellectual history of the Enlightenment among those who could not read or write—namely enslaved people, women, and the indigenous inhabitants of colonial Spanish America, who sued in royal courts during the eighteenth century.

*University of Maryland, Baltimore County
Dept. of History & Dresher Center for the Humanities*