*The Poetics of Conversation:
Translation,
Benjamin Fondane,
and The New Babel*

A lecture by

Leonard Schwartz
Evergreen State College

Wednesday, September 14, 4 – 6 p.m.

Dresher Center Conference Room

Performing Arts & Humanities Bldg., Room 216

Leonard Schwartz is the author of many books of poetry and criticism, including A Flicker at the Edge of Things, Language as Responsibility, Gnostic Blessing, The Tower of Diverse Shores, A Message Back and Other Furors, At Element, The Library of Seven Readings, and If. He is also the host of the radio program Cross Cultural Poetics, which features interviews with poets, thinkers, performers, and artists from all over the world.

During his lecture, Professor Schwartz will discuss his two recent publications, The New Babel: Towards A Poetics of the Mid-East Crises (The University of Arkansas Press) and Benjamin Fondane: Cinepoems and Others (New York Review Books).

All are welcome.
