

June 24, 2015

9:30 am to 4:30 pm

Workshop with Liz Lerman for graduate students!
website: <http://lizlerman.com/>

B'PAR Presents

Critical Response Process

Register by June 10, 2015

Email sstocks1@umbc.edu for more information.

Location: AREA 405
405 E Oliver St.
Baltimore, MD 21202
<http://area405.com>

Lunch will be provided!

Workshop participants will explore possibilities for embracing horizontal research approaches within hierarchical worlds by actively engaging with creative tools for generating ideas, problem solving and reflecting on one's practices. Seats are limited.

Please submit your brief statement of interest here:

<https://docs.google.com/a/umbc.edu/forms/d/1AzhOZTS8r9JP7ovASIECOxoxaZD4J9LUWMzcoCBDWu8/viewform> .

B'PAR consists of an interdisciplinary group of UMBC graduate students who are connecting their academic interests with their public work through engaged scholarship and activism.

