

INDIANA UNIVERSITY
THE UNIVERSITY GRADUATE SCHOOL

December 20, 2019

Dear prospective graduate student:

It is my pleasure to invite you to Getting You into Indiana University (GU2IU), a campus recruitment program for prospective underrepresented and minority students interested in pursuing a Ph.D. or M.F.A. at Indiana University (IUB) Bloomington. The three-day event will be held on the IUB campus, begins Sunday, April 19, 2020, and ends on Tuesday, April 21, 2020. This is an all-expense paid trip for selected highly qualified applicants including air fare, lodging, and meals. Participants will learn more about IU's Ph.D. and M.F.A. programs, research opportunities and funding options. Additionally, participants will meet with faculty, staff and current graduate students, attend sessions on preparing competitive applications for graduate admission, explore campus cultural centers, and take a campus tour.

Participants must be US citizens or permanent residents who are juniors, seniors, master's level students in good academic standing; or, degreed professionals interested in pursuing a PhD or MFA at Indiana University Bloomington.

The application process for "Getting You into IU" consists of:

- (1) a completed application: click HERE which will ask you to (a) provide demographic information; (b) provide a brief summary of your academic and research experiences; (c) identify your prospective PhD or MFA program; and, (d) list the names of three IUB faculty members you wish to meet during your visit
- (2) email a copy of your curriculum vitae (CV) and unofficial transcript; and,
- (3) faculty nomination (highly recommended but not required). Forward the following nomination link to your faculty mentor to complete: click HERE.

Applications and supporting documents must be submitted and received by March 4, 2020.
