

DNC Technology Internship

The Democratic National Committee (DNC) is offering a unique and exciting opportunity to work in the field of technology and politics. We are currently seeking diligent, organized, and enthusiastic students or recent graduates with strong data and technology skills and a demonstrated interest in political campaigns to assist the DNC's Technology team. Interns will gain an enhanced understanding of how technology plays a critical role in modern campaigns. The internship will also give real, hands-on data analysis, data science, data engineering and management, and web development that will be valuable for potential future employment opportunities.

About You

You should be:

- A recent graduate or a current undergraduate or graduate student with an interest in data and technology
- A problem solver who is able to handle multiple tasks at once, working both independently and with others in a fast-paced office
- Willing to commit 20 to 40 hours per week in our Washington, DC headquarters
- Motivated to get Democrats elected across the country

You should also have familiarity with and interest in one or more of the following areas:

- Quantitative analysis using Python, R, Stata or similar tools
- Applied statistics, machine learning, or experimental research
- Campaign data management and analysis relating to field campaigns, polling or fundraising
- Databases and data management using MySQL, PostgreSQL, Microsoft SQL Server or similar systems
- Web development in HTML, CSS, PHP, JavaScript, Ruby on Rails, or related languages
- Software Engineering using Python, Ruby, Git, Linux and related technologies

How to Apply

We are currently accepting applications for the Fall, Spring, and Summer internship terms. Interested candidates should fill out this form (<http://my.democrats.org/page/s/dnc-technology-internship>), and attach their resume.

This is an unpaid internship program.
