

Tune in to learn more

FALL 2025 | TUES 4:30-7PM

MINDSETS & METHODS OF EMERGENT STRATEGY

In this course students will deepen self-awareness, develop systems-thinking mindsets and practice new tools and strategies to co-create transformative change as innovators, organizers, artists, activists and community leaders

CLDR: 611
MAIN CAMPUS
REGISTER TODAY!

WITH INSTRUCTOR
SAM NOVAK

WHAT ARE STUDENTS SAYING?

"I was looking for a class outside of the traditional classes in my program that would expose me to different ways of thinking about the world, leadership, and the complex problems I want to explore with my research. I was not prepared for how transformational emergent strategy, systems thinking, and the learning community we developed during the class would be for me."

--Danielle Barefoot, Public Policy (Ph.D)