FATHER INVOLVEMENT IN THE EARLY YEARS

AN INTERNATIONAL COMPARISON OF POLICY AND PRACTICE

Edited by Marina A. Adler and Karl Lenz

Father involvement in the early years

An international comparison of policy and practice

Edited by
Marina A. Adler and Karl Lenz

Fatherhood is in transition, as men try to balance being both active and involved fathers while meeting the demands of the workplace. This book explores these challenges in the context of cross-national policies and the influences of these policies on the daily childcare practices of fathers. Highlighting the increasing interest in the enduring impact of early life experience, the contributors present the most up-to-date research on father involvement with young, preschool-age children in six countries—Finland, Germany, Italy, Slovenia, the United Kingdom, and the United States—offering insight into the effects of different national policies related to parenting in general and fathers in particular.

“Marina Adler, Karl Lenz, and their colleagues paint a detailed picture of fathers’ involvement in child rearing in six countries. This volume represents a valuable addition to the cross-national scholarship on work and family, and helps us to gauge how masculinity is evolving in culture, policy, and practice.”

—Jerry Jacobs, University of Pennsylvania

Marina A. Adler is professor of sociology at the University of Maryland, Baltimore County. Karl Lenz is professor and chair of micro-sociology and vice-rector for university planning at Dresden University of Technology, Germany.
