Initiatives for Identity, Inclusion & Belonging (i3b)

helps students, staff, faculty, and alumnx develop the knowledge, awareness, and skills necessary to cultivate an inclusive campus community, while creating spaces for students to get connected and find belonging.

Who We Are: The Pride Center

One of i3b's three identity-based spaces, The Pride Center is a lesbian, gay, bisexual, trans, queer, intersex, asexual, "+" (LGBTQIA+) -centered communal space for connection, social justice, and identity development. We center respect, consent, and expression in our shared space and with our relationships and connections with each other. Through our intersectional programming, student support, resource connections, and advocacy we aim to co-create a campus community that fosters LGBTQIA+ inclusion and equity.

The Pride Center is located in The University Center 201-D and includes a lounge area and one of the Assistant Director offices. We provide community members a place to connect, build relationships, and find to support and resources. You can also just stop by to enjoy coffee, tea, snacks, or a meal, but most importantly, engage in Queer and Trans joy and all of its intersections.
