

"Advocacy Through Art"

Calling all Creatives -

OCA Mocha is accepting submissions of art that addresses any social issue for which you are an advocate or activist.

Art empowers us to creatively address the challenges of inequity, hate, discrimination, and oppression that have been fundamental in shaping our reality and that effect us and the people we care about everyday. Now, more than ever, people are speaking out about topics such as social and racial justice, LGBTQIA+ rights, women's rights, mental health, disability awareness, and environmentalism.

We create art not only to reflect on or challenge the world in which we live and how we live in it, but also to educate and mobilize those with different experiences. Art is a lens through which we can learn to understand, empathize, and listen more deeply and intentionally to ourselves and to others.

At OCA Mocha, we're dedicated to uplifting the voices of local artists and we value the diversity and inclusivity of our community. We are continually inspired by your artistic efforts to be agents of change and after a long year of violence and uncertainty, we'd like to focus on the work of those who have and will continue to make a difference and advocate for change in our community and, ultimately, our world.

Artists are invited to submit artwork— of any hangable medium— that addresses social issues for which they are an advocate or activist for this open call. All artists, regardless of location or experience, are encouraged to submit their best work.
